Citrus Parents Win; To Get Crossing Guard

3-2 Vote After Stormy Debate

Packing the council room and bombarding the council members with questions concerning child safety and other factors, Citrus school parents represented by Mrs. Darrell Hunter won a crossing guard for the corner of Seventh and San Antonio streets at the city council meeting Monday night.

In a three to two vote, the council members agreed to hire a crossing guard for the corner. The dissenting votes were Mayor George Gibson and Councilman Max Hawkins.

Mrs. Hunter read a prepared statement to the council. In part she said: On Nov. 5, we pre-sented a petition signed by 609 parents in the area and this in itself was a mandate to the council as our elected representatives and should have been given due regard to the needs of the community, but we were passed on to a committee.

REJECTION REASONS

In committee, she continued, the group was told (1) the cor-ner did not meet the adopted criteria (2) the city did not have sufficient funds to hire a crossing guard and (3) to allow the hiring of a crossing guard for the corner would open the door for other areas.

She was referring to a meet-ing with the group with the street and lighting committee headed by Councilmen Zella Stone and Max Hawkins. In that meeting Police Chief Wessely described the criteria for hiring a crossing guard and which was adopted by the city four years ago. The criteria is technical in nature, but the city says it is uniform, fair and im-

The parents say it is an "algebraic equation" and does not take into consideration the human factor nor "special circum-

The school safety committee who had studied the original request for the crossing guard at that corner had said it did not meet the requirements of the criteria and recommended the request not be granted.

Councilman Zella Stone said of the criteria; "A lot of study did go in on the criteria and the program has been operating successfully since its adoption in 1964. A four way stop at the corner at first seemed to be the answer (four way stop was put in at the corner quite a while ago). I agree the criteria should be restudied and I have no desire to see anyone killed at that inter-section,"

The parents previously had asked if the council was waiting for some child to get killed at that corner before action was Councilman Stone asked that the parents wait until a new criteria study could be made and which she said could be completed late in December, before any action was taken.

HAWKINS STANDS PAT

Councilman Max Hawkins said the safety committee had studied the situation and they were a responsible body. "There just has to be a starting point and ending point." The safety committee is made up of representatives of the police department, elementary administra-tion, high school administration, Foothill PTA council, city en-gineer and a member of AAA.

Councilman James Christensen said, "Each corner in the city is different and has to be judged differently. I have seen cars going a lot faster at Seventh and San Antonio than at 11th and San Antonio (a crossing guard is at 11th and San Antonio). There are a number of children living on the opposite of San Antonio who must cross the street to get to school, They need a crossing Councilman Ronald Rossitter said he was disturbed by the anger of the parents, but admired their concern.

Mayor George Gibson said,
"It would be an easy thing to do to go along with you people, I am anxious to do the best we can for the citizens, but we don't take our responsibility lightly and we must weigh factors. We don't want any child killed, but even with a crossing guard it does happen, we can't guarantee 100 per cent safety."

The Mayor then asked for comment from the parents in the audience, and many of the 50 or so parents spoke.

One said, "Algebraic equations tell me nothing as an individual, do you as council members understand it?"

"You are using an ostrich ap-proach to the problem!"

Other parents discussed how blind the corner was, how trees interfere with seeing the stop signs; the lack of a white line divider in the street.

Finally one parent said, "How much weight would the criteria bear if a child were killed at that corner?"

Besides the crossing guard, the parents have been assured the trees would be trimmed and the necessary line painting be

Second avenue going north one way will be the feeder street for the new off ramp of the San Bernardino freeway.

The action was taken at an adjourned meeting of the city council held Tuesday night. A public hearing gave some 15 property owners a chance to discuss the proposal with council members.

The homeowners were primarily concerned with the problem of increased traffic and the effect it would have on the safety of their Previously the State Highway Department had told the council if they approved making second avenue one way north, the new off ramp would be located there and not at First avenue. The state said it was a necessary move to keep motorists using Second avenue going south from getting onto the freeway going the wrong way.

Several questions were asked by the homeowners and were answered by Lee Travers, administrative assistant, in the absence of Elwin Alder, who was ill with the flu, and Fred Blanchard, city engineer. The questions and answers were: (1) Would there be traffic lights at 7th or 8th streets? The answer was not at the time of the off ramp, but a four way stop would be placed there and later if warranted, traffic signals would be installed.

(2) Would Second avenue carry the increased traffic load without making chuckholes? The answer was that Second avenue is already considered a major arterial street and was so constructed to carry heavy loads of traffic.

(3) If major repairs were required could the money come from gas tax projects. It was answered that the street would qualify for gas tax projects if a need was present.

(4) What about home values remaining stable with a one way street and more traffic? Councilman Ronald Rossitter answered this question by saying that a task force was studying the possibility of placing a regional shopping town house complex in the area and if it was successful, the values would increase not de-

(5) What about sidewalks for the safety of the children and what about making the allies one way going south so the home-owners would have access to their property. This was answered that both the sidewalks and alleys presented unique problems, and would have to be studied. Councilman James Christensen moved they be referred to the street and light committee.

In addition Councilman Hawkins moved that there be a truck load limit imposed on Second avenue, and this was referred to the street and light committee.

Some of the property owners in the area who spoke at the hearing were Ralph Miller, 267 S. Second avenue, Joe Harris, 212 E. 8th st., Doug Robertson, 218 S. Second avenue, Robert Strater, 365 Green Tree rd., and John Sparks, 278 Second avenue.

CUHSD Plans On Bond Issue Set For Public

ONTARIO -- Chaffey Union High School District superintendent Allan Smith reported to the board of trustees last night that 215 invitations have been sent out to citizens to attend a meeting on the proposed $25 million bond and tax rate election plans of the district. The date for the meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 12, in the Merton E. Hill auditorium.

Smith explained that citizens invited represent PTA's, various governmental agencies, com-mercial and industrial firms, professions, and citizens who have been active with the district in prior bond and tax rate programs.

"We are already receiving the cards back and expect to have about 100 to 150 people in attendance, the superintendent added, plus many others who have indicated an interest in attending and to whom invitations have been

He also informed the board that the administration is currently in the process of putting together a slide and tape presentation in conjunction with written ma-terials so there is a well thought out, carefully presented program, Postmaster John W. James recently announced that patrons should mail their greeting cards for distant States not later than Dec. 11, and those for local delivery not later than Dec. 16.

Patrons are reminded of the importance of complete and legible addresses, including apartment number and zip codes. Thousands of letters are undeliverable each year because of illegible and incomplete addresses, missing apartment numbers, improper abbreviations or lack of return addresses.

Postmaster James suggests patrons mail early during the day and avoid the big rush. For patrons' convenience the post office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sat., December 7, 14, and 21, 1968.

Council Agrees

City Wants, Needs 'Quality Industry'

"We can no longer afford to be a bedroom community and exclude 'clean' industry," Council-man James Christensen told city council members at an adjourned meeting Tuesday night.

He was referring to allowing certain types of industry to locate in Upland to help spread the tax base from reliance on property owners to sharing it with

He also asked condemnation proceedings be initiated at once in the green belt area, near Cable Airport, so the way could be cleared for the council to take action on a pending business wishing to locate in that area with a payroll of 500 em ployees and taxes that would funnel in to the city.

SHOULD BE C1
"It is a 'clean' type of industry and should be encouraged, he added. "We have to realize the people in the city of Upland can no longer afford to pay the massive taxes and we must do something to offset it.
People are fed up with the amount of taxes they have to pay. We have to encourage business and industry," he said,

Turning to the green belt situation he asked the matter be brought to the council at the next meeting and urged immediate passage of necessary steps so the commitment to the homeowners in the area to form a green belt buffer zone be carried out, and then a study of what type 'clean' industry can be lo-cated there and what the zoning

QUALITY INDUSTRY Mayor George Gibson said, Industry doesn't really pay off that much, We should get quality industry, but not just anything that comes along. We should not rush ahead. Councilman Ronald Rossitter said, "The stakes are high. We must move care fully. I think the proper zoning for the area would be research and development.

Councilman Christensen agreed that if an R & D zone was needed in the green belt area then rezone, but action must be taken now to develop a long range program that would benefit the city.

Festivities will start with a cocktail hour at 7 p.m., continue with dinner catered by a gourmet Basque restaurant at 8 and climax with dancing to the Elliott Brothers band until 1 a.m. The Elliott sound, for many years a Disneyland tradition, is now fabled across the land.

The club disclosed that more than 300 invitations have been mailed to the Chaffey faculty, staff and board members encouraging them to bring guests to the party.

The format of the party itself is something unique in the history of the Faculty Wives, according to Mrs. Colbath. "We chose a beautiful old building to give it the right kind of atmosphere and signed up one of the top orchestras in the country to give our guests a good reason to dance," she said.

These fabrics are facinating, but they pre-sent cleaning difficulties. Fabrics containing metal threads have two major faults: They tarnish, and are extremely susceptible to severe creasing and

Most metal threads consist of a cotton inner thread which serves as a base around which a thin metallic ribbon is rolled spirally. The base metal is usually copper, which, when the laquer wears off, tarnishes badly, and tarnish is almost impossible to remove by any method of cleaning. Synthetic metal-like threads do not present this problem.

Fruits and vegetables are useful for cleaning and polishing materials of many kinds. Wilted and not-too-fresh fruits and vegetables may be used for this purpose. Lemon rind will remove stain from cooking vessels when boiled in water for 15 or 20 minutes, Lemon juice can be used when boiling stained or soiled white linens or cottons. Rub half an onion on the tin surfaces of pans to clean, then polish with a dry cloth. Rub brass with white potato, then rinse in potato water and polish dry with a clean cloth.

A deep bow to the thousands of restaurant owners who are serving free coffee to road-weary drivers this holiday season. The "season to be merry" is now the "season to be careful" for all who drive - or are driven - on our lethal highways.

No one likes to inject a somber note into any thought of this happiest time of the year, but last year, 53,000 Americans died and almost 2 million were injured in traffic accidents. There were more than 1,000 deaths during the 1967

Christmas-New Year period alone. Safety experts are hopeful that free coffee stops will reduce these grim totals by generating hundreds of thousands of drivers' rest breaks which would otherwise > not take place. Rest breaks for drivers are recommended as a highly effective way to offset fatigue and drowsiness - a major cause of accidents. The very act of parking the car and going into the bright, pleasant restaurant is helpful. The reviving cup of hot coffee gives the driver an important time-out to recover from that often-fatal ailment, highway

Clearly, restaurants taking part in this important program are providing a public service of value to us all. The words "free" and "coffee" have strong appeal, used together. Experience shows that people stop for a rest break much more readily when coffee is offered as an incentive-and if that incentive is free, so much the better.

Participating restaurants identify themselves by prominently displaying a hexagonal sign saying, "Stop here . . . Free Coffee . . . Safety Break." There are no gimmicks in this offer. Any motorist may stop at any restaurant displaying the sign and get free coffee. Along with it, he will get a refreshing change of pace that will enable him to drive better when he returns to the steering wheel.

Flu -- the popular term for influenza-is a viral infection which is quite common during the winter season. The illness makes the patient feel utterly miserable, and can sometimes (but not commonly) develop serious complications. Its symptoms include headache, cough, sore throat, nasal discharge, fever, muscle pains, and a general feeling of sickness. The most uncomfortable symptoms us-ually subside after a few days, but the patient is likely to feel very tired and below par for a week or'so.

Q. How is the disease transmitted? A. The infection is very readily transmitted through any sort of close contact with an infected person. Exposure to a patient who is coughing or sneezing can be very risky. If one person in a household has flu, the rest of the family often contracts the disease. It spreads rapidly through classrooms and offices. Persons with flu are urged, for their own wellbeing as well as for the safety of others, not to go to work or school until they recover.

Q. Can flu be prevented by immunization? A. Yes, to a limited extent. The disease is due to a number of different strains. Vaccines which are now available for protection combine as many strains as is feasible, the combination varying from year to year in anticipation of the particular type of flu which is foreseen that year. A number of people seem to have flu-like respiratory infections despite having been immunized. Nevertheless, this protection is effective enough so that it is usually advised for persons whose health would be particularly endangered by flu. These high-risk groups include elderly persons, pregnant women, and persons with serious chronic illnesses such as heart disease. lung disease, or diabetes. Flu shots are not recommended routinely for children.

Q. When sh shots be taken? When should flu

A. The immunization procedure consists of two injections, taken one or two months apart. The first should be taken no later than October, to provide maximum pro-tection during the winter months. Immunity lasts about six months. Flu shots should not be taken in the midst of a flu epidemic. Will there be a Q.

flu epidemic this year? A. Probably. The Public Health Service predicts an epidemic outbreak of a variation of the A-2 virus which caused the epidemic of Asian flu a few years ago. This prediction is based on an epidemic in Hong Kong which seems to be spreading in the Orient. This is a new strain, so there is no vaccine available to provide protection against this specific type of flu, nor is there time for a new vaccine to be developed and tested. The vaccines that are already available will, however, protect against many other types of flu.

Q. How should flu be treated?

A. Treatment is directed toward keeping the patient comfortable and preventing the develop-fine Rayon and ment of complications.

The patient should stay in bed, be encouraged to drink adequate amounts of fluid, and be fed a light diet. Aspirin can help to reduce the discomfort and cough medi-cine often affords relief too. Beyond that, the disease must run its course.

Q. Do antibiotics help the patient with flu?

an abscessed ear, for example. SNAPPY SAUSAGE PINWHEELS Makes 41/2 dozen pinwheels 1/2 teaspoon salt

A. No, since flu is caused by a virus and antibiotics are effective only in combating bacterial infections. When a physician prescribes an antibiotic in the presence of flu, it is because the patient has developed a secondary complication due to bacterial agents --

It Pays to Work

You may not, in the old words, have raised your boy to be a soldier. Or a brick-layer or a carpenter or an onworker. But don't look down your economic nose at the latter occupations.

In Dayton, Ohio, bricklayers have won a 72 per cent raise, bringing their hourly wage to $9.75 ($19.50 if it's Toledo's iron workers haven't done quite so well, but they got a 19 per cent a year raise to $7.63 an hour.

story by Ernst Hoffmann.

Beginning November To set the mood, Mont clair Plaza directors have taped special Christmas music and included Tschaikovsky's beautiful Nutcracker Suite. Schools throughout the area are invited to attend. Many schools have already scheduled buses to take the children to the Montclair Plaza. All children are invited to attend the daily readings and to view the delightful Nut cracker sets which will be displayed on the Mall.

DECEMBER 7

Less than a month after our observation of a day originally set aside to memorialize the armistice which ended the war that was supposed to end all war, we come to the anniversary of a day that destroyed any illusions we might still have had that the world was, indeed, safe for democracy; that our boys would not be sent again to fight in foreign lands.

The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor shattered far more than our Pacific Fleet. It destroyed our Pacific shield; and even though the blood and the sweat and the tears of anguish finally bought us victory, it thrust us far deeper into Asian affairs than we had ever wanted to go.

On another December day, December 2, 1823, President James Monroe promulgated a hopeful Doctrine of a protective U.S. sphere of influence in the western hemisphere. Cuban missile bases almost obliterated that doctrine, but it already had become obsolescent as our sphere of influence was relentlessly widened to include the world.

God grant that there will be no more Pearl Harbors, no more Vietnams . . . that not too many generations from now all the people of the world will be with glad hearts celebrating the day of days when mankind finally found a way to curb his aggressions, to solve his desperate problems without the nihilistic nonsense of war.

NEW CAL POLY ADDITION -- The Cal Poly, Pomona agriculture building addition, planned for com-pletion in September 1970, will provide classrooms and laboratories for students enrolled in the 12 departments of the School of Agriculture.

Gen. Tel. Cut Basic Phone Rates In Area On Dec. 2

General Telephone Company will reduce ba-sic telephone rates starting December 2 for all business and residential services throughout the Los Angeles area, according to an announcement made by Richard L. Ohlson, vice president revenue requirements.

The $7.5 million dollar rate reduction will make General Telephone Company rates comparable to Pacific Telephone Company services in the Los Angeles area. General Telephone Company ser-vices in the exchanges of Pomona, Upland-Ontario area and Oxnard will also be reduced to keep rates compatible with the neighboring Pomona area served by Pacific, Hunt-ington Beach and Westminster will also have reductions in rates for comparable services and

The reduction in rates for basic telephone services provided by General Telephone has been made possible by a recent agreement between General Telephone and Pacific Telephone Company.

General Telephone Company's new rates will mean a reduction of as much as 35 cents to some customers' basic residential telephone costs. Charges for colored instruments at the time of installation will be reduced from $10 to $5. This charge is a one time charge, made only at the time of installation of the colored telephone. Certain short range long dis-tance calls will be reduced. Some toll rates for long distance calls between 30 to 80 miles from the originating point of the call will be reduced, and the "Sunday long distance rate" will be applied all day Saturday too. This reduction in rates for long distance calls within the state of California affects all of General Telephone's serving areas.

The reduction for intrastate long distance charges will be effective. on all calls made on and after December 2. Bills sent to our customers during December will not reflect the decreases in basic telephone charges. However, starting Janu-ary 1, all bills will show a credit for the downward adjustment of the basic telephone service.

L.A. Ram Star Makes Speech At Boys Republic

Jack Pardee, all-star defensive back of the Los Angeles Rams, was a speaker at the Boys Republic high school gymnasium as part of a na-tion-wide youth program by Fiberglas Corporation of Toledo, O.

In his talk, Pardee stressed the value of teamwork not only in ath-letics and signed auto graphs for the boys.

Chow Generation

It's beginning to look as if the minority revolution is moving out of the streets and schoolrooms into the kitchen.

In Berkeley the schools have granted demands of a group of Negro students for a menu including "soul" food—chitlins, corn bread, ham, lima beans and hominy grits.

Merced County Mexican-Americans in Livingston High School picked up the culinary cue, asking for Mexican food.

As the San Francisco Ex-As the San Francisco Examiner suggests, editorial tongue in cheek, it may not be long before sweet-sour pork may be the issue of a student uprising in some of that city's almost 100 percent Chinese elementary schools; tempura in the Japanese-American institutions.

Hmmm! Smells like quite a stew being cooked up in the great American melting pot.

John Baumgartner Has Attended Rotary Meetings In 50 States

For 37 years John Baumgartner, 242 No. Laurel ave., has pinned his Rotary button and sat own to a luncheon meetng. Sometimes he was in Salem, Mass., some-times in St. Louis, Mo. or Honolulu, Hawaii.

He has attended 112 Rogary Clubs in the 50 states Canada, and Mexico, Altogether he is recorded having 37 years of erfect attendance.

His Rotary career tarted in Brinkley, Arkinsas when he became a charter member on Feb. 6, 1925. Ten years later e became a member of he Paragould, Arkansas totary Club and became member of the Upland lub Feb. 6, 1946. He as also attended Rotary nternational conventions n many of the states and n Mexico.

TAUGHT 52 YEARS Besides his Rotary areer, he was a teacher or 52 years in Arkanas, and with attending many educational meetngs, he was able to comine his teaching career with his Rotary meetings. John is 89 years young, man with twinkling eyes and a sense of humor to match. He has been a Rotarian for 40 years, but because of a technicality can claim only 37 years as perfect atendance. Typical of the type of man he is, his reason for attending all of the meetings is this; "I wanted to be true to my classification, education, and to get ac-in all of the states. Sometimes this was hard as his educational meetings were not always located near a Rotary club and this meant more trawel, but he never let this ter him from his de-

WANTED TOTRAVEL "I had a strong desire to travel in every state the union and make my Rotary attendance. His accomplishments in his lifetime would be worthy of a book. For in addition to his Rotary interest and educational background, he has found time to be a contributor in the communities he has lived and to serve his fellow man.

Ohio, and reared in Pandora, he moved to Stuttgart, Arkansas in 1903, where he became a classroom teacher for six years. He taught in a one room country school and lived with a farmer who had 20 milk cows, it was John's job to arise early every morning be-fore school and milk the cows in exchange for his board. His salary for teaching school was $30 a month, In 1920 he took a leave of absence to finish his education and received a masters degree in 1920 from the University of Arkansas. In 1922 he Arkansas. received a masters of arts degree from Chicago University. He also did graduate work at Stanford. From 1911 to 1936 he was Superintendent of schools, then he served on the Arkansas State School Survey Staff.

In 1937 he became president of a junior college. With the outbreak of WW II, he obtained a leave of absence and became a defense instructor in Paragould, for Green County and also, trained pre-flight cadets. After the war he returned to teach at State Teachers College, and taught there and in agricultural and normal colleges until his retirement.

HERE 64 YEARS He first came to Upland in 1904 to visit his sister Mrs. Kate Baumgartner Habegger, who has lived in Upland for 64 years, and also has colorful background. John, made many visits to the city and finally became a resident in 1946, after he retired from teaching. His list of organizations and service to the communities where he has resided are impressive and when he celebrated a recent anniversary of his teaching career, he received many, many letters from students who had been his pupils. Some of John's students were Negroes and he has many letters from these students who recall his great concern for them and their seeking for an education. He recalls were eager for learning and appreciative of all helped them get ahead.

ACTIVE MAN Some of the activities John has participated in are local and district church functions, scouting, Hi-Y, Red Cross, Library board, farm security council, agricultural planning committee, farm retirement, he attends his beloved Rotary meetings and participates when he can. He is doing some observation work in nature study, and has his eye on his suitcase while he is making plans to go traveling again. This time he has his sights on Fairbanks, Alaska. His motto might well be, "Have Rotary Pin, Will Travel."

HAPPY COUPLE - Mabel Baumgartner congratulates John on his 37 years of perfect attendance in Rotary. He was also an educator for 52 years and has now retired. He still attends Rotary, but at home enjoys a quiet life. However, his ambition is to take off and visit Alaska.

bureau and chamber of commerce.

He is a member of the Masons, El Camino Real Club, debating societies, science associations and honorary societies, Pi Gammu Mu and Kappa Delta Pi.

As if this isn't enough, town council, school board president and mayor.

OPEN SUNDAYS!

Ever get part way through a project and run out of material . . . on Sunday, when most stores are closed?

Don't forget Rugg Lumber. We're open on Sunday from 9 a.m. 'til 3:00 p.m.

And of course we're here weekdays from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 8.00 a.m. 'til 4:00 p.m.

Sorry, no Sunday deliveries.
